As the long train came in, cheer on cheer rent the air, as reader! the hundreds of people lining the bank greeted the returning braves with a hearty welcome. The 38th Wisconsin Infantry, numbering 330 men, formed a part of the invading army, and was under the command of Captern T. B. Marsden, assisted by the following officers: Captains B. F. Frees, R. F. Beckwith, H. H. Coleman, and Lieutenants Solon W. Pierce, F. T. Zettler, James Heth, Wm. Adams, Charles Hoys, Wm. Maxon and George Street. There were also detachmennts of the 37th Wisconsin, 34 men, and of the 12th, 16th and 17th regiments, numbering 355, the latter three detachments being under the command of Captain W. F. Gibbs. The 12th was commanded by Captain Blakely, the 16th by Lieutenant Grover and the 17th by Lieutenant McKinney. The special It is universally conceded that Mr. Burli bject of this tramp was to show the Counil the imperative necessity of driving two three hundred spiles in the river at the ast end of the farm, to prevent the water om wearing it away.

The corn in these fields looks better than gy and good judgment have put, and keep, that of any farm along the road, and the potatoe crop is by all odds the finest to be seen anywhere. (This is no puff. We don't wish to offer any bribe for so paltry a consideration as a few bushels of early potatoes !) The forward state of the crops on this farm is due largely to its excellent land, and also to the skilful management of Mr. Thomas Rome, who has charge of all the agricultural operations on the place,

R-turning from this jount, which visibly freeted the wind and muscle of many of the visitors, the Superintendent conducted em through the garden, consisting largey of strawberry beds, when unwented anistion immediately seized the seemingly spent gentlemen. It was a sight for Ceres, or any other respectable woman. The City Council cut a swath over the bed, and left famine behind, a la Sherman in South Car

When the party had wreaked their ven geance to the full on the innocent berries, to which went the virtue and selectest induence from every element, and from sun and star, the gentlemen proceeded to the Infirmary, fully recuperated. The Sandwich lalauders used to believe that the strength of the vanquished went into the blood of the vanguisher. The doctrine was illustrated yesterday.

A turn through the Poor House convinced all that a better conducted charitable institution does not exist in this or any other State. Every thing about the build ing, whether hospital rooms, c.oking, sleeping, House of Correction, or insane spartments, wears the most cleanly, sweet and wholesome aspect. The rooms are well arranged, admirably lighted and ventilated, and kept scrupulously clean. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the Superintendent, Mr. Smith, and his invaluable assistant, Mrs. Carrie M. Smith, Matron of the Infirmary. Their eye tolerates no diers' Atd Society, and people averywhere floor or ceiling, and no cobweb festooning. doubt not it is their good pleasure, The large house, in all its parts, is kept nice enough for the residence of a queen. A brief discription of the building may not be uninteresting. The structure is built of brick, and stands our stories high above the basement. A wide hall divides the building into two sections, one for either sex. The first floor is used for miscellaneous purposes by the officers of the institution. On the second floor of the southern section are sleeping ooms for the male paupers. Single iron bedsteads are used, and the rooms are perfectly clean and full of light and air. Above these are hospital and bathing rooms, and a chapel for religious services. There were three patients in the hospital, two very old mon, and a younger man in the last steges consumption. The bath room is well ordered. There is a bath room for each it break out. Religious exercises are held at half past three o'clock every Sabbath afternoon. Most of the same inmates of the ducted by various volunteer parties. Oc-

A NEW CONFIDENCE GAME .- On Tuesday, as the express train from this city stopped at Ashley station, a man walked up to the ladies' cor and asked a soldier, who was sitting at a window, to give him a carpetsack. The soldier, in return, inquired off yesterday, by Mejor W. S. Kennon, which sack it was. "Theone nearest you," replied the man. The soldier accordingly banded out a fine, large, bulky carpet sack, and the train in a few moments moved off. Shortly afterward the owner of the sack, who had been in the smoking car, came into the ladies' car, and, to his surprise, found Lieutenant Colonel Perkins issued his that his carpet-sack was missing. He lefe farewell order before disbanding, a copy of the train at the next station, and took the next northward bound train to search for his lost property. It is conjectured that the soldier was a confederate of the thief to whom he so politely handed the carpetunck. SUPPLIES FOR THE SOLDIER'S HOME .- The 'Soldier's Home' has been for the past two weeks crowded to its utmost capacity by regiments returning home. Each, as it passes through, is provided with a good and abundant meal. During three days last week 1,740 meals were given at the "Home," and since Sunday, 1,120 have been served. This heavy drain upon the resources of Judge Abbey is industriously filling with gs, Mission Ridge and Perryville, and the the Boldler's Aid Society has been cheerwomen. It consists of a sitting room and you to look back upon the many incidents fully met, but the immense quantity of of your army life as scenes which, while provisions needed to feed so large a num-you may never care to live through sgain, you nevertheless may be proud to relate.

THURSDAY EVENING, June S, 1865. The steady demand for specie on foreign account which still characterizes the market, though less active than a few weeks since, nevertheless maintains a strong feeling among holders of gold, which is increased by the growing scarcity of sterling exchange, and the tendency of the market seems to be toward hi, her figures for the present at least -The present price of American securities in Europe is not calculated to aid in rost ring the exchange equilibrium, as it affords no mergin for export, though above the point at which they can be profitably returned to this country for sale, and until they range higher across the water, no bene-fit can be derived from their movements. The produce markets continue in a p sition that utterly precludes a general export movement, and pros posts are not fla teriog to any very early change in this regard. Meantime the Son b is in no position to enter the market with whatever of her products she might have to offer, and in the necessarily slow process of reconstruct on, will probably not be for a long period to come.
